CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of Townville High School of Crawford County, in the State of Pennsylvania, in this year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-one, being of sound mind and body, that we may leave a small token in behalf of our class, give and bequeath the following:

To the Junior Class we leave our ability to face difficult problems with calm and assured intelligence.

To the Sophomore Class we will our determined efforts to make the next two years the happiest and most worth while of their school life.

To the Freshman Class we leave our ability to make a clean and fulfilled record to leave behind them when their fourth year has come to a close.

To the entire student body we bequeath our admiration for the worth while things of life.

Many of the members of the class have been kind enough to share some of their many possessions and talents to the underclassmen, with their sincere hope that they will be appreciated.

Ralph Berlin wills his athletic ability and unusual physique to Ralph Herron.

Harlan Drake leaves his ability to get the best of an argument with Miss Naser, to Henry Yochum.

Leah Proper wills her secret for blonde hair to Nancy McKay.

Gaylord Yochum leaves his ability to consistently keep his hair standing on edge to Gene Markley.

Helene Raybuck leaves her optimistic views to anyone who desires them.

Beatrice Culver leaves her technique of getting letters from the navy—or the army—to Cathryn Galford.

Raymond Ghering leaves his acting ability to Adella Whitney.

Margaret Creacraft wills her ability to flirt with the boys (especially tall, dark and handsome ones) to Edith Drake.

Paul Leo Gregg bequeaths his vast knowledge of all subjects to Edward Werling.

Mabel Smith leaves her attractive smile and coquettish ways to Helen Marovich.

Edna McLaughlin leaves her good humor and carefree manner to Robert Archer.

Laura Jane Clark leaves her secret of keeping slim to anyone who is fifty pounds overweight.

Jeanne Durfee leaves her speaking ability to Joseph Kuberry.

Alden Post wills his quiet mannerisms to Thelma Smith.

Virginia Ingraham wills her ability to live up to the Tri-Hi-Y slogan to all future Tri-Hi-Y members.

Martha Sterling leaves her ability to type to Juanita Hellem.

Helen Edminster wills her ability as a good English student to Art Howard.

Freda Mosher wills her man-hating ideas to Irene Howard.

And this our last will and testament, we appoint Mr. Durfee sole executor, and in witness thereof, we, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and forty-one, set our seal on this twenty-seventh day of May, nineteen hundred and forty-one.

It was in the Fall of 1937, when we, the present Senior Class, strode into the Townville-Steuben High School building for the purpose of increasing our already vast store of knowledge. We were unlike most previous Freshman classes entering High School, in that we were intelligent enough to find the way to our home room without the assistance of our dignified upper classmen. The morning our class first marched into assembly room for chapel, we made even the Seniors take notice. Instead of seeing a group of dumb-looking Freshmen, they beheld one of the most outstanding classes to enter Townville High in many years.

Soon after becoming accustomed to our surroundings, we held a class meeting. We chose for our president, Kenneth Markley, who led us through a most prosperous year. For our other officers we chose Jeanne Durfee, vice-president; Siegfried Novak, secretary; and Mabel Smith, treasurer. Purple and orange were the class colors selected. We were justly proud of them and the standards which they represented. Mr. Vogel was our home room teacher.

During our Freshman year we participated in many clubs and sports.

Our entry in the Fair was a float on the "Signing of the Constitution." Two assembly programs which we presented were well liked by everyone.

Four of the girls were accepted in the Tri-Hi-Y and three boys in the Hi-Y. Twelve girls echoed in the Girls' Chorus. Siegfried Novak, Glen Melville and Michael Katulich warbled in the Boys' Chorus.

Jeanne Durfee represented the Freshman class on the varsity basketball team, where she earned her first letter. Sanford Kidder and Edna McLaughlin as school cheer leaders were the only other Freshmen to earn a letter that year.

Mabel Smith ably represented our class in the Girls' Ensemble that won county honors.

It was a busy year for us. The work was not easy but we kept our courage. The year soon rolled by and on May twenty-seventh, the happiest day of the year, we received our report cards with the words, "Promoted to the Sophomore Class," written on them.

In the Fall of 1938 we returned to T. H. S. with a determination to make our Sophomore year a most successful one. For our class officers we selected Mabel Smith, president; Leah Proper, vice-president; and Jeanne Durfee, secretary and treasurer. This year we selected green and white as class colors.

We were first active at Fair time, when we appeared on a float in a "Vegetable Wedding." Next we entertained the Freshmen in an initiation party. We then appeared in our first assembly program. We put on a short skit, "At the Railroad Station." At Hallowe'en we put on a shadow play, "White Elk." Our last social activity was again in assembly. We put on a short play, "The Lunch Hour."

This year we gained the following members: Ralph Berlin, Helen Raybuck, Helen Edminster, Gerald Childs, Robert Saeger, Robert Eggers and Leah Proper. During the year we were very sorry to lose two of our members—Robert Saeger and Robert Eggers.

Michael Katulich and Ralph Berlin represented the Sophomore class on the Boys' Varsity squad, Ralph Berlin being a letterman. Margaret Creacraft and Jeanne Durfee also represented the Sophomore class on the Girls' Varsity squad, Jeanne Durfee being a letterman. Our boys were the winners of the class basketball tournament. Mabel Smith earned her letter this year, cheering the basketball teams on to victory.

This year, more members joined various clubs. Our Tri-Hi-Y club membership increased to eleven girls. Ralph Berlin and Gerald Childs joined the Hi-Y club.

Five girls and boys took active part in the Press Club. Eight boys were active members of the Future Farmers of America.

Eleven girls strained their voices this year for Mr. Johnson. Mabel Smith, Helen Raybuck and Leah Proper represented the Sophomore class in the ensemble which won in the county contest. Our five musically talented boys and girls played in the Orchestra.

The year turned out to be one of good times and hard work, but we did not allow pleasure to interfere with our school work in the least. Under the careful and thoughtful guidance of our patient faculty, we easily gathered sufficient knowledge to merit our being promoted to the Senior class, but to our disappointment, we were promoted only to the Junior class.

On enteriing in the Fall of 1939, we were greeted by our faculty members, who were to guide us in our further pursuit of knowledge.

We elected Ralph Berlin, president; Michael Katulich, secretary; and Helen Edminster, treasurer. Mr. Harvey was our home room teacher. Paul Gregg entered our class this year. During the year we lost Gerald Childs, Glenn Melville and Kenneth Markley.

We were first active at Fair time, when we appeared on a float, "Keep Our Boys at Home," which was awarded first prize. During the year we appeared in several assembly programs.

The big event was the banquet that the Juniors gave in honor of the Seniors.

Helen Raybuck, Edythe Shaul, Laura Jane Clark and Virginia Ingraham belonged to the Home Economics club this year.

Leah Proper, representing our class on the Home Economics demonstration team at Harrisburg, brought back the honors as well as twenty-five dollars.

Eleven boys were active in the organizing of the Sportsmen's club under the supervision of Mr. Harvey. Eleven boys and girls were active throughout the year in the Dramatic club.

Thirteen singing girls were active in the Girls' Chorus. This year four girls from the class, Edna McLaughlin, Mabel Smith, Jeanne Durfee, Helen Raybuck, were in the Ensemble, which won first prize at the County Contest and placed third in the District Contest.

Helen Edminster, Jeanne Durfee and Mabel Smith belonged to the Press Club. Eight active boys belonged to the Future Farmers of America. Harlan Drake was elected president of the Crawford County Chapter of Future Farmers. He was awarded a jacket for his services as president.

Our musical growth increased to nine girls and boys, who played in the orchestra.

Kenneth Markley, Sanford Kidder, Siegfried Novak, Michael Katulich and Ralph Berlin represented the Junior Class on the Boys' Varsity Basketball squad. Ralph Berlin and Michael Katulich were lettermen. Edna McLaughlin, Frances Galford, Margaret Creacraft and Beatrice Culver were lettermen.

In the fall of 1940 we entered our fourth year of High School as dignified Seniors. For our officers we elected Mabel Smith, president; Ralph Berlin, vice-president; Leah Proper, secretary; Beatrice Culver, treasurer.

We were first active at Fair time, when we appeared on a float, "America for Peace," which was awarded first prize. This Hallowe'en time the Senior class had charge of the party, which turned out to be a great success.

Ten of us were members of the Dramatic club this year. Our acting ability was displayed this year in the three one-act plays put on by the club and the Senior play, "Feudin' in the Hills."

Three of our girls were officers in the Tri-Y-Hi—Frances Galford, vice-president; Helen Raybuck, secretary; and Virginia Ingraham, treasurer. Seven other Seniors were members.

Four of our girls were officers in the Commercial club—Jeanne Durfee, president; Edythe Shaul, vice-president; Helen Edminster, secretary; and Helen Purenski, treasurer. Seventeen other Seniors were members.

Ralph Berlin was elected president of the Hi-Y club. Four other Seniors also were members. Seven boys were active throughout the year in the Sportsmen's club.

Gaylor Yochum and Harlan Drake represented our class on the F. F. A. demonstration team at Harrisburg. Three other Seniors were members of the club. Harlan Drake won the state award as a farmer of Pennsylvania.

Laura Jane Clark, Mabel Smith, Edna McLaughlin and Margaret Creacraft and Jeanne Durfee sang with the ensemble, which was awarded first place in the County Music Contest.

Ralph Berlin and Siegfried Novak received letters for basketball. Ralph Berlin being next to the highest in scoring in the Eastern Division. Players Frances Galford, Beatrice Culver, Margaret Creacraft and Edythe Shaul, manager of the girls' basketball team, were awarded letters.

As our Senior year is drawing to a close, 23 of us who survived the stormy but happy years now bid farewell to our friends, the faculty, the school board and to all the people with whom we have become acquainted during our four years at Townville High School.

CLASS PROPHECY

Now, as the school days of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-one draw to a close, we await the possibilities of the future, hoping that it may be as profitable as the previous years have been.

As I sit dreaming ahead into the future, my eyes suddenly turn in the direction of a teacup nearby . . . the tea leaves appear to be taking various shapes and forms . . . as I gaze more intently into the cup . . . I see a beautiful building in the business section of Harrisburg . . . Much to my surprise, Harlan Drake and Gaylord Yochum appear in the door . . . Evidently they are the owners of this large and prosperous Nite Club . . . School trips often prove helpful in choosing an occupation.

A dim outline of a room filled with children comes into view . . . finally I see it is an English Class with Virginia Ingraham as a successful teacher at Townville.

Next the words, "Old Ladies' Home," can be seen on a large building . . . In front of the building are three former Townville residents—two of whom are Martha Sterling and Freda Mosher, employed at the Home . . . the third seems to be gazing intently at her left hand . . . she finally lifts her head . . . it is Frances Galford . . . I was surely surprised to see her here.

The Home fades away . . . a tall, blonde gentleman can be seen escorting two young ladies down the street . . . I can see them more distinctly now . . . the gentleman is Siegfried Novak, an owner of a restaurant, and two of his waitresses, Laura Jane Clark and Leah Proper . . . Still the ladies' man, aren't you, Siegie?

A large office appears . . . Edythe Shaul is seated at the desk taking dictation from her employer, Alden Post, a theatrical producer . . . the door opens . . . in walks Raymond Ghering, a prominent movie actor . . . Thanks to the Senior Play for exposing his acting ability.

Here comes the navy! . . . my mistake . . . it's only Beatrice Culver . . . Why all the smiles, Bea? . . . Oh! yes, after all, more than six years have passed.

The scene changes to the West . . . A large Physical Education School comes into sight . . . The instructors are Jeanne Durfee and Ralph Berlin . . . They have formed a partnership in the business . . . Incidentally, there has been another partnership formed . . . probably for life.

The tea leaves seem to move about . . . Suddenly they take the shape of a Chemical Laboratory . . . A chemist is bending over his work . . . He looks up—it is Paul Gregg . . . His so-called chemical experiments in school proved beneficial.

The laboratory fades into the distance . . . an airplane takes its place . . . the air hostess, Helen Raybuck, patiently waits for the pilot . . . here he comes . . . Well, if it isn't Keith Smith . . . Better late than never, Keith.

Now follows a successful beauty shoppe owned by Edna McLaughlin and Helen Purenski . . . Helen is using her hair for advertising permanents . . . Not a bad idea.

A breeze blows from the window . . . the tea leaves flutter . . . a hospital with Mabel Smith as a competent nurse is seen . . . As in the past, she goes about lending sympathy and a kindness to everyone.

The tea leaves again move about . . . they take the shape of a book . . . the title and author seem familiar . . . the book is "The Winton Brothers," written by Margaret Creacraft, who has become a famous author.

The breeze blows stronger . . . the cup crashes to the floor . . . During this short time I have been given the opportunity of looking into the future of my classmates.

As we are about to face the problems of the future, let us strive to do our best in all things.

—HELEN EDMINSTER.

A very appropriate assembly program, in which "Joe Careless" and "John Careful" dramatized correct and incorrect ways of handling guns and of general conduct in the field, was held in October. Protector Miller of Titusville was guest speaker and answered many questions during a free discussion period.

During the winter months practically every member engaged in some type of conservation program by building shelters and feeding game.

The annual spring vermin hunt resulted in the death of many crows, hawks and owls. Organized snake hunts on nearby trout streams met with great success and we feel that fishing will be much improved as a result of these efforts. Plans for the annual field day are now being made and as usual the losers in the vermin contest will "feed" the winners.

The primary objects of the club, "to teach sound game and fish conservation and to make every sportsman a "good sportsman" is being realized through our club meetings and activities.

After the club was organized, a schedule of meetings was arranged and program committees appointed for each meeting.

A great deal of time and effort was put forth by various club members in securing worth while material and information for a school hand book. This will be published next year. Leah Proper was head of a committee that designed and made a banner in the club colors.

Our assembly program consisted of a twelve-girl chorus and several readings.

A party was held January 11 and a very enjoyable evening was spent in games and other fun.

Mothers of the club members were entertained by the club on May 14.

A few of our original objectives have not been realized, but we do feel proud of those things we have accomplished during the past year and are looking forward to bigger and better things to come.

F. F. A. DEMONSTRATION TEAM

Harlan Drake and Gaylord Yochum

Harlan Drake and Gaylord Yochum were selected for the demonstration team. "Grinding Feed the Electric Way," was the demonstration which they presented at the State Farm Show. All of the units for the demonstration were built by the boys, except the grinder and the motor. The demonstration was presented in a creditable manner.

STANDING—Mr. Harvey, Jack Durfee, Richard Markley, Rudolph Katulich, Merton Boyles, Arthur Howard, Russell Leri and Harlan Drake, manager.

SITTING—Edward Werling, Robert Nicols, Robert Collins, Ralph Berlin, Kenneth Harris and Siegfried Novak.

Boys' Varsity Basketball practice began the first week in November with a large squad reporting for competition.

Harris, Berlin, Werling and Novak formed the foundation, around which one of the school's most powerful combinations in recent years was developed. Nichols, a new student to T. H. S., became the fifth member of the varsity. Collins developed as a valuable guard later in the season. The season opened with successive wins over strong opponents. Mid-season saw several losses. The squad finished the season with a string of victories, including Cochranton, a Class A opponent. The Varsity entered the Crawford County tournament and were defeated 39-36 by a strong opponent from the Western division. Coach Harvey predicts another strong squad next year.

The Girls' Varsity started the season with several losses. Mr. Harvey acted as coach during the last half of the season and developed a smooth working combination. The girls showed good spirit and sportsmanship throughout the season.

Next year the squad will feel the loss of three players: Margaret Creacraft and Beatrice Culver, who played guard positions, and Frances Galford, who played a forward position.

FRESHMAN CLASS TEAM

Ralph Berlin (coach), Jack Durfee, Russel Leri, Gerald Smith, Rudolph Katulich, Eugene Troutner.

Although the Freshmen were considered small and supposedly green, they worked hard to attain the title of the best class team in the High School. They were good sports and will be good material for next year's varsity.
